Services of Ordination and Induction to the Ministry of Word and Sacrament
Services of Ordination and Induction to the Ministry of Word and Sacrament
Introduction

Two forms of service for the Ordination and Induction of a Minister of Word and Sacrament are offered here. The first is a gentle revision of the interim Ordinal and Service Book of 2005 which stands in continuity with the 1931 Ordinal and Service Book and its much admired prayer of ordination. The second is a more radical revision which expresses something of creativity in worship within the Church today. These forms of service may be used word for word, or used more freely as a guide, or used interchangeably.

Form and freedom sit in healthy tension in worship. The Church of Scotland’s rich treasury of service books since the Reformation is eloquent testimony to the Spirit’s indwelling through written forms of prayer. Similarly, the Church has prized the indwelling of the Spirit through free prayer: ‘Liberty in the conduct of worship is a possession which the Church of Scotland will not surrender’ commented the Preface to the 1940 edition of The Book of Common Order.

When the Church ordains and inducts Ministers of Word and Sacrament, the tension between form and freedom may seem especially sharp when the Moderator of Presbytery begins to read the Preamble and puts the Questions to the ordinand. To some in the congregation these words from 1929 will sound verbose and obscure, to others they will sound as an electrifying statement of the Church’s faith and purpose. The Liturgical Working Group has wrestled with this tension and initially it had been hoped to include a revised version of the Preamble within the second order of service. However, it is clear that the current position is that the Preamble, Questions, and Formula must be used in their original form. Together they are part of the agreement that brought about the union of The Church of Scotland and the United Free Church of Scotland in 1929 and it would take legislation under the Barrier Act to alter this form of words. The Preamble and the Questions are intrinsically linked, with the Preamble providing a doctrinal platform on which the Questions sit.
There is sometimes a tension between a Presbytery guarding the right to order its service and a congregation eager to express something of its identity and life. The second order of service tries to reflect this and includes greater scope for participation from the congregation together with the suggested option that members of Presbytery may choose to sit less conspicuously among the congregation.

Within both services offered here, a prayer of confession has been restored. This reflects the current awareness through ‘A Place for Hope’ and elsewhere of the reality of the conflict that sometimes exists within congregations or between a congregation and its Presbytery.

Services of ordination and induction naturally focus on a local situation. The use of The Apostles’ Creed highlights the wider historic and ecumenical community of the worldwide Church through the ages. The first service also includes a prayer from the ordination service of a Church within the worldwide Presbyterian family. In this instance the prayer is from The Presbyterian Church in Canada, but a Presbytery twinned with a Presbytery in another country for example, might wish to include prayers that come from there.

Services of ordination and induction are high points in the lives of a presbytery, a congregation, and of an ordinand, and a minister inducted to a new charge. The joy of the occasion and the solemnity of the vows taken should be reflected in careful preparation by all those involved.

These two services are offered with the prayer that they will be of use to the Church in its worship and stimulate reflection on what it means to be ordained and inducted into the Ministry of Word and Sacrament.

The Ordination, Induction or Introduction of a Minister

1. Hymn

The Presbytery may enter the church during the singing of this hymn, or may already have taken their seats beforehand.

2. Greeting

The presiding minister says:

Grace to you and peace from God our Father and the Lord Jesus Christ. (Romans 1:7)

Sisters and brothers in Christ, we come together with thanksgiving as congregation and Presbytery to praise the Lord who has brought us to this day *of the ordination and/or induction of N______ N______ as Minister of this congregation and parish.

* at an introduction replace with “when N______ N______ is introduced to the post of...”

3. Prayers

This call to prayer may be used.

Praise the Lord, you that are his servants,
Praise the name of the Lord.

Blessed be the name of the Lord
Now and evermore.
From the rising of the sun to its setting
May the Lord’s name be praised! (Psalm 113: 1-3)

Let us pray.

Praise be to the God and Father of our Lord Jesus Christ!
In his great mercy by the resurrection of Jesus Christ from the dead, He gave us new birth into a living hope. (1 Peter 1: 3 (NIV & REB) Lord our God, we praise you for Christ the Lord. We praise you for the fellowship of the Church; we praise you for the faith handed down as one generation to another tells of your mighty acts; we praise you for the worship offered throughout the world, we praise you for the witness and service of the saints through the ages. Lord our God - Father, Son and Holy Spirit we praise you.

Amen.

Eternal Father,
you call your Church to seek your kingdom before anything else;
through the Holy Spirit give us the mind of Christ
so that your Church may play its part in your purpose.
Turn us away from the thoughts and attitudes that grieve you;
turn us away from the words and actions which hurt and divide the Church, the body of Christ.
Draw us to Christ that in him we may receive your forgiveness;
cleanse us from our sins that we may worship you in spirit and in truth now and always.

Amen.

Silence

The almighty and merciful Lord grant pardon and remission of all our sins, time for amendment of life,
and the grace and comfort of the Holy Spirit.

Amen.

OR

O God of infinite possibilities, as we ponder what you have done among us, we are moved with awe and wonder.
In your hands
a lump of clay became a human person, a barren woman brought forth a child of promise,
a boy’s lunch became a feast for a multitude,
an impulsive fisherman became the Rock on which you built your Church, the hands of Jesus of Nazareth, pierced with nails became the sign of your saving power.
Truly, nothing is too difficult for you, Lord God Almighty!

And now we gather together in response to your call, we place ourselves again into your hands trusting that we too may become new creations of your love and instruments of your grace, through Jesus Christ our Lord.

Amen.

The proof of God’s amazing love is this: while we were sinners Christ died for us. (Romans 5:8)

In humility and faith let us confess our sin to God.

God of grace: in Jesus Christ you call us to be your servant people, but too often we have gone our own way hoping to avoid your claim on our lives. We have not always trusted your good news to be good for us and have resisted the transforming power of your word. Have mercy on us, O God. In your love forgive us and set us free to respond to your call to be your faithful people, through Jesus Christ our Lord.

Amen.

Hear the good news!

This saying is sure and worthy of full acceptance, that Christ Jesus came into the world to save sinners. (1 Timothy 1:15)

Anyone who is in Christ is a new creation. The old has gone; a new life has begun. (2 Corinthians 5: 17)

I believe in God, the Father almighty, creator of heaven and earth.

People of the congregation
We shall always be ready to meet Christ in this place and show in our lives the promise of his reconciliation.

20. The Charge to the Minister and The Congregation
The Charge to the Minister
We, your brothers and sisters of the Presbytery of __________, rejoice with you that through the love and mercy of God you have been called to minister in this place. I now charge you in the name of the Church to seek to be worthy of your calling. With a humble spirit and grateful heart, work for the building up of the body of Christ. Together with the people to whom you are bound, share in the ministry of the reconciliation of all things in Christ Jesus.

Care for the people in your charge. As you exercise your own gifts, encourage them to seek out and to use their own particular gifts. As you pray continually for them, gratefully receive the love and strength they also offer you.

Seek to exhort and teach as one who is also under the authority of the Word of God. Through sermon and sacrament, bring God’s people to maturity of faith, and send them out to live and serve the Lord, strong in the Spirit, to the glory of God the Father. Reach out to those who have not yet come to faith; honour what is worthy in their lives, love them as God’s scattered children; and seek to bring them safely home.

Do not neglect the gift you have been given. Be a faithful student of the Holy Scriptures, that what you read you may believe, what you believe you may teach, and what you teach you may practise. Pray with perseverance; renew your mind; refresh your body; open your eyes to be filled with the fullness of God.

Now may the God of peace, who brought back from the dead our Lord Jesus, the great shepherd of the sheep, by the blood of the eternal covenant, make you complete in everything good so that you may do his will, working among us that which is pleasing in his sight, through Jesus Christ, to whom be glory forever and ever. Amen. (Hebrews 13:20-21)

The Charge to the Congregation

Today a new ministry has begun, not simply of the one who has made these solemn vows, but of you also who are members of Christ in this place.

You have been baptised into Christ. Each of you has received gifts by which you may share in the ministry of the Church. Renew these gifts by their exercise in Christ’s ministry to the world, and as you use them in the building up of the body of Christ in love, unity, and peace.

Gather in the house of God, minister and people together. Wait expectantly for the living Word. Seek in the sacraments the presence of Christ among you. Make offering of what you have and are; and receive the blessing of God.
As you welcome your new minister, make this community of Christ a place of true welcome for those who seek or for those who are in need of any kind. Find ways of making the Word declared in worship known publicly through what you say and do.

Uphold and encourage your minister with your friendship and your prayers, asking for him/her and for yourselves that the Holy Spirit may be poured out richly upon you, that you may both know do the will of God.

May the God of steadfastness and encouragement grant you to live in harmony with one another, in accordance with Christ Jesus, so that together you may with one voice glorify the God and Father of our Lord Jesus Christ. (Romans 15:5-6)

21. Prayers
Almighty God, at Easter the sight of the risen Lord filled the disciples with wonder and peace. As we walk with you, give us a sure knowledge of Christ’s presence that we may be strengthened and sustained by his risen life so that we may serve you in righteousness and truth; through Jesus Christ our Lord.
Amen.

Extempore prayer may be made for the local church, or for the particular context to which the appointment has been made. This could include prayers for specific projects of the congregation, as well as its mission partner and congregations with which it has links.

We remember O Lord, those who love Christ’s church but who are prevented from sharing in this service through illness or frailty, work or commitments. Keep us united with them and also with those who in the past built up this church by their faith and their lives and help us in our generation to hand on to the generations to come, the heritage of faith untarnished and undiminished, to the glory of your name. These prayers, together with the silent prayers of our hearts we offer through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.

22. Hymn
A hymn is sung here or after the Benediction.

Holy Communion may now be celebrated. The newly ordained minister may preside.
23. Benediction

The Moderator says:

Go into the world in peace. Be of good courage; hold fast to that which is good, render unto no-one evil for evil. Strengthen the faint hearted, support the weak, help the afflicted, honour all people. Love and serve the Lord, rejoicing in the power of the Holy Spirit.

The blessing of God Almighty, the Father, the Son, and the Holy Spirit be with you all.

Amen.
Services of Ordination and Induction to the Ministry of Word and Sacrament
Meeting of Presbytery

The Presbytery meeting takes place before the service during which the edict is read. Following that Presbyters may sit among the congregation symbolising one community.

1. Gathering
A member of the congregation welcomes everyone.

On behalf of the congregation of N________ I welcome each of you. We are here because God has led us to this time and place in the journey of faith of our community. This place of worship and living is our spiritual home and today we celebrate as we reaffirm through this service of ordination whose we are and who God has called us to be.

Members of the congregation are invited to shake hands as a sign of the peace of Christ.

Here we share in the story of salvation, sharing in the work of the Gospel through ministry and mission to the world. All are called by God and gifted by the Spirit. We recognise we need each other, congregation and Presbytery, to continue our calling of ministry in this place and so we welcome Presbytery who through this service of ordination enable us to continue our task in ministry as we call N_________ to lead us, with the help of God, to be fully who God calls us to be.

2. Call to Worship
The Moderator of Presbytery and a Member of the Congregation continue:

A: From out of the story of ancients,
B: who have travelled before us,
All: we will worship today.
A: In the call of Abraham,
B: to journey under fields of stars and over grains of sand,
All: we will journey too.
A: In the echo of Moses,
B: called from a bush burning yet not consumed,
All: we will listen today.
A: In the story of the Exodus,
B: and the long promise of freedom,
All: we will travel today.
A: In the vision of Paul,
B: a fool for the generosity of God,
All: we will find ourselves today.
A: In the outpouring of Spirit.
B: who moves us towards justice and truth,
All: we will proclaim today.
A: In the shadow of the cross,
B: and the glory of the resurrection,
All: we will celebrate today.
A: In the on-going story of salvation,
B: which is ours through Jesus Christ,
All: we will rejoice today.

3. Hymn

4. Prayers
God of grace and love,
we worship you as our Creator,
the one who gives us and all the gift of life.
We praise you for the gift of salvation through Jesus Christ.
We bless you for the gift of your Holy Spirit, who unites us as one body.

Lord Jesus Christ,
we thank you for this gift of grace, that we should be your church, and for the gifts you give to every member of your church.
To every woman, every man, both young and old -
You give to all, so that all may serve, so that all may grow in grace, and your whole body be built up in love.

And as we pray,
come, Holy Spirit!
We pray that you would come in power and love, come to stir up your gifts in each and all,
and give again your gifts of unity and peace.

God of mercy,
we confess our failure within the Church to live within your truth and love.
Our sins of pride and prejudice, our failures to live as good stewards of the earth and to share its riches justly.
We confess our failures to live as joyful and hopeful witnesses to the Gospel before Scotland and the world.

ALL:  Lord have mercy,
Christ have mercy,
Lord have mercy.

Gracious Saviour, we ask you to forgive us and to form us in your own image,
So let your kingdom come, your will be done in us,
O God of grace.
And by your mercy let the world see your rich wisdom in the life and witness of your Church through Jesus Christ our Lord.
As all God’s people say; ‘Amen’.

ALL:  Amen

5. Reading of the Word
Readings from Old and New Testament are read

6. Sermon

7. Response to God & Apostles’ Creed (CH4 628)
Through their one baptism, all who are members of Christ’s Church are called to ministry or service. The scripture says:

“You are a chosen race,
a Royal priesthood,
a holy Nation,
God’s own people – called to proclaim the mighty acts of God who called you out of darkness into glorious light.’

Let us stand to proclaim our faith together as Christ’s Church:

I believe in God, the Father almighty, creator of heaven and earth.

I believe in Jesus Christ,
God’s only Son, our Lord,
who was conceived by the Holy Spirit, born of the Virgin Mary, suffered under Pontius Pilate, was crucified, died, and was buried;
he descended to the dead.
On the third day he rose again;
he ascended into heaven,
he is seated at the right hand of the Father, and he will come again to judge the living and the dead.

I believe in the Holy Spirit,
the holy catholic Church;
the communion of saints;
the forgiveness of sins;
the resurrection of the body;
and the life everlasting.   Amen.

15. Declaration & Right Hand of Fellowship

I now declare you to be ordained to the office of the Holy Ministry and as token thereof we give you the right hand of fellowship.

A selection of representatives from presbytery and congregation offer the right hand of fellowship. It may be suggested that following the service this symbol continues as people find the time and space to welcome N_________ into the presbytery and congregation.

16. Charges

During these statements symbols of bread, wine and water can be offered to the newly ordained. If communion is to follow, the bread and wine may be used as the elements.

A member of Presbytery:

We the presbytery of N_________ celebrate today in this newest milestone for the Church of Jesus Christ. We offer our prayerful support and grace-filled friendship to this congregation and newly ordained servant. Our vision is to work in the unity of Christ with all God’s people celebrating, encouraging and affirming each other and in particular the ministry of this community today. We are your servants.

The bread is presented

A member from the Congregation:
We the congregation of N__________ celebrate here in the grace of God who brings men and women from among us all to lead and inspire. As we have witnessed this ordination may we in faith learn from each other, listening with all our hearts to God’s calling and may we love and care for each other in our journey of faith newly affirmed today. Together with you our new minister we live in the imagination of the Spirit as part of the universal church through all times and in all places and affirm Jesus Christ as our servant and Lord in whom we will place our love and our lives.

A goblet of wine is presented

The newly ordained:
I, N__________, stand here as God’s servant to you all. May we learn to love each other, discover the grace of God together and move as one body to the beat of the Gospel. May we discover God’s truth, be touched by mystery and question what too many take for granted. May we live as a family in the anticipation of love, the promise of the saints, the hope of eternity and peace on earth. May Jesus accompany us as we grow together and the Spirit inspire our living as God’s people. Let us find grace and laughter, forgiveness and truth, justice and vision married to each other and embraced by us together.

A jug of water and a bowl are presented and the newly ordained pours the water into a bowl

A service of Communion may follow where the Moderator and new minister share a short liturgy.

If there is no service of Communion you may move directly to this statement of dedication which may be read with different groups being given different verses to read.

17. Hymn

18. Dedication
We shall not remain here,
but shall live by the spirit, living right relationships,
as heaven’s community, called into the world.

We shall not remain here,
but shall move with the story of Jesus,
welcoming the stranger,
and breaking bread with the hungry, called into compassion.

We shall not remain here,
but shall listen for God’s intent, trusting the journey,
of grace and love,
called into faith.

We shall not remain here,
but shall travel as one people,
renewed and forgiven,
in the blessing of ordination, called into unity.

We shall not remain here,
but shall listen within the word of God,
to the prompting of the spirit,
ready to en-flesh a vision, called into renewal.

We shall not remain here,
but shall join with all who follow,
under ancient stars,
responding to the promise of God,
and called into life.
